

THE CRAFTSMEN
THE SKILLS
THE RESULTS

STONEART

We are stonemasons, and under the leadership of Sébastien David provide standards of quality and workmanship second to none.

Our range of skills and knowledge allows us to work on virtually any project where stone is involved, from consultancy, through design to the finished product. We only employ the best stonemasons, stone restorers and mason's mates - all of whom we know and trust to work to a consistently high standard.

We work closely with architects, conservation officers, surveyors, contractors and home owners, so whether working on an ecclesiastic, listed-building, restoration, conservation or new-build project, you can trust Stone Art to deliver to the highest standard, on time and on budget.

DESIGN

We can design just about anything produced from stone. From fireplaces to fountains and staircases to statues, we have the artistic skills and technical knowledge.

RESTORATION AND CONSERVATION

Working with architects, conservation officers, surveyors, contractors and home owners, Stone Art undertake all kinds of architectural stonemasonry. From simple stone features and cladding, to ecclesiastic, listed-building, conservation and restoration, each project is individually considered to achieve a careful, sensitive repair keeping the integrity of the existing building.

STONEMASONRY AND LETTER CARVING

We create and install hand-carved pieces, suitable for internal and external spaces: fountains; figurative and abstract sculpture; relief carvings and furniture. Hand-carved lettering has character and elegance. We accept commissions for memorials, garden features, house signs, public art and exhibition pieces.

CONSULTANCY

Qualified consultants are always available to advise, answer any questions you may have, and to help manage work as it progresses.

MODERN TECHNIQUES

Stone Art are also well versed in modern stonemason techniques such as fixing stone to steel constructions, and pre- and post-tension stone structures.

NEW BUILD

Be it directly for a client, or acting as a principal contractor, Stone Art will work closely with architects, surveyors, builders and designers to produce a stunning result.

STONE SUPPLY

We also supply stone for many purposes. Building stone, interior or exterior flooring, weather resistant stone.

STONEART

After being a journeyman for the best part of a decade, Sébastien David founded Stone Art Cotswold in 2010.

Sébastien learnt his skills by moving from site to site and being taught by different Masters - as is the tradition in France. He has worked on many prestigious projects around the world and brings this experience and expertise to his work today.

WHY CHOOSE STONE ART?

Stone Art has an enviable track record of completed projects of all sizes and complexity, building relationships with clients based on trust, performance and results.

So, whether working on an ecclesiastic, listed-building, restoration, conservation or new-build projects, you can trust Stone Art to deliver your project to the highest standard, on time and on budget.
